By clicking on Motorsports on the web site www.pirellityre.com, you will be catapulted into the exceptional world of racing where Pirelli is a leading player. Each section of the web site offers dynamic sports such as rallying, track racing and desert rally-raids. In addition to technical information, press releases and photos of the various races in which teams, cars and racing drivers using Pirelli tyres have taken part, it is also possible to read results and comments from the FIA WRC World Rally Championship, the Grand Am Series (two championships for which the Milan company is the official tyre supplier) and the international FIAGT championship, all fields in which Pirelli plays a leading role, in real time.

(2008-2010), the French GT FFSA, the Asian Supercar Challenge and the Italian GT Championship. The company proposes advanced, competitive products to its clients which have been created on the basis of experience gained in the several different types of championships, trophies and challenges – all challenging – that are held throughout the world. Pirelli can supply the most suitable tyres to a wide range of vehicles: For example, from the Seat León in the European single-brand series which will start in 2008, to the more sophisticated Grand Touring cars which race in the national and international competitions in the categories GT1, GT2, GT3 and GT4.
